Emerald Lake Homes Escape In Grass Fire

160 Acres Are Burned Over When Picnic Blaze Spreads

More than 160 acres of grass and brush land immediately to the west of the Emerald Lake district were burned over yesterday afternoon in a blaze that for a time threatened to destroy six homes in the district.

An army of fire-fighters under the leadership of Fire Chief John Volpiano of Woodside and County Fire Warden Bert Werder battled for over an hour and a half before bringing the blaze under control and three hours more before it was completely distinguished.

Picnickers whose camp fire caused the blaze, the most serious of the current season so far, were being hunted today for questioning. They were being traced through automobile license numbers.

Once started near the Canada road, the fire burned rapidly with intense heat that made the work of fighting it hazardous.

Eugene Titmer, Woodside fireman, was burned, and the clothing of several other fire-fighters was scorched by the flames that in many cases leaped over many feet fanned by the wind.

All of the equipment of the Woodside Fire Department and of the county's fire-fighting crew was mustered at the scene of the fire.

Earlier in the day another grass fire near Glenwood avenue, Woodside, was extinguished without damage, as was one west of San Carlos.

At Hillsborough several estates were threatened by a blaze originating on the Burlingame Land and Water Company property near the J. D. Grant estate and the home of the late Archibald Johnson.

Chain Grocers' Buying Exceeds Sales in State

In a full-page announcement for Safeway and Piggly Wiggly Stores appearing today in The Tribune and Beacon they point out their purchases for 1933 in California—$88,000,000—exceed by many millions their sales in this state for the same period.

"In fact," states an executive, "our purchases in this state are more than double the dollars-and-cents income of California's famous egg industry."

"No California enterprise we know of," he continued, "performs the economic service for this state that we do. Every dollar we receive from the California consumer we hand right back to the California producer."

"Hundreds of thousands of people—producers, growers, packers, manufacturers, transporters, wholesalers, salesmen, as well as retail employees and consumers—are benefitted by these tremendous purchases and by this service of supply."

"Seventeen out of every 100 cabbages grown in California are purchased by Safeway and Piggly Wiggly Stores, as are 5 per cent of its melons, 8 per cent of its apples, 10 per cent of its potatoes and 13 per cent of the onion crop."

Safeway and Piggly Wiggly Stores in Redwood City are part of a 3,300-unit chain which had its beginning in a corner grocery in American Falls, Idaho—started in May, 1914.

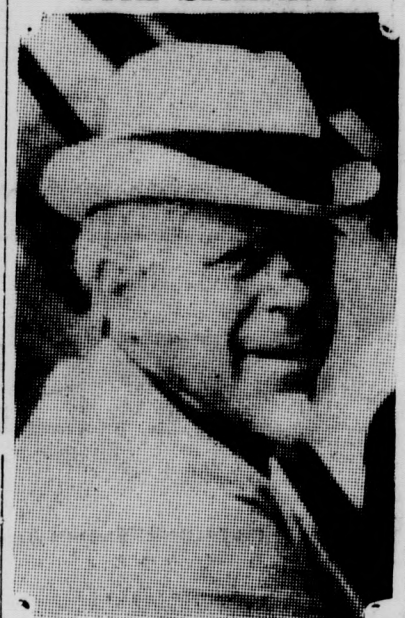

The organization now includes its own creameries, produce house, bakeries, coffee plants, a candy factory and 66 warehouses.

Alleys Are Urged To Solve Traffic

BURLINGAME, May 22.—Recommendation of the construction of alleys to take care of automobile traffic on Burlingame avenue was made to the city council here last night by the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce as a means of solving the parking problem without widening the main business street.

Widening Burlingame avenue by cutting three feet off sidewalks on both sides of the street was opposed by the chamber because the resultant limitation of pedestrian traffic was believed injurious to business.

THE SHERIFF

The Gilmore Circus with nine entertainers will appear on the stage of the Fox-Sequoia Theater next Tuesday at the matinee and night performances. Jack Clifford, with his tin badge, goatee and rattle, old car, plays the role of sheriff. Cliff Clark, circus barker; Aunt Addie, Soda Pop, Joe Warner, Wiley Oats, the Gilmorettes and the Gilmore Clowns, are included in the all-star radio cast which will appear on the Sequoia stage.

Cities In Plea For Road Fund

County Asked to Split $200,000 Gas Tax For Streets

Asking $82,000 as their share of the $210,000 collected by San Mateo county from the state in gasoline taxes, cities of the peninsula Monday appealed to the board of supervisors for road funds to be expended within the municipalities.

It was pointed out to the board that 80 per cent of peninsula population is within the cities and as a result 80 per cent of the gas tax is paid by city residents.

Ninety six per cent of the funds, however, it was pointed out, is spent within the unincorporated areas.

The city spokesmen said that the $128,000 which would be left after giving their share would be sufficient to take care of county road maintenance. Paul McCarthy, Redwood City councilman and chairman of the peninsula division of the League of California Municipalities, informed the board that when the cities agreed to accept only the 1/4-cent gas tax, the county supervisors had agreed to share funds from the 1-cent allocated to the larger political area.

W. W. Hendricks, representing several peninsula communities, said that millions of dollars invested in roads were going to pieces because of the lack of maintenance funds.

Speakers included City Manager Ernest Rollison of Redwood City, Robert Klassen, John F. Davis, Earl P. Wilsey, San Mateo city manager; Mayor Aylett Cotton of San Mateo, and others.

Civic Leaders In Big Turnout For Quarterly Dinner Session

Dr. Pierce Is Heard In Inspirational Address Here

Splendid spirit of the business men of Redwood City in retaining their "faith and courage" in the potentialities of the city during trying periods so that the community has actually prospered, was praised last night by Edward T. Harrison, president of the chamber of commerce, at a quarterly dinner meeting which featured an interesting address by Dr. Jason Noble Pierce of San Francisco.

Dr. Pierce's talk, which included some intimacies of former President Calvin Coolidge while a student at Amherst, a young legislator of his commonwealth and a parishioner of Dr. Pierce's church in Washington, proved an inspiration to the 175 men and women business leaders of the city who attended the joint dinner meeting of the chamber of commerce and service clubs at the Sequoia high school.

Will See Way Out

Seeing a happy solution in the struggle between capital and labor that will escape the depths of Socialism—with labor's day in the ascendency—Dr. Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church of San Francisco, left behind assurances that the nation will see its way through "the tremendous problems being met in every walk of life."

"Uncle Sam not only has the problems but has the things needed to see the way through," Dr. Pierce said, referring to the "folks" that make up the nation.

Dr. Pierce saw the need of capital going part way toward labor's demands and said if the country was not willing to make some progress in this regard there is the danger of going the full way from capitalism to Communism. He did not, however, believe this would come about.

The government, he held, cannot run business as efficiently as private corporations, "but a great many utilities must be turned over to the people or they will run all of them," Dr. Pierce declared.

Referring to the "cruel injustice" of certain laws in their effect upon labor, Dr. Pierce said that California laws in particular were drawn to the strike and the "fearful situation in the world," Dr. Pierce said that the best way to meet the issue was with the weapons of "truth and justice" and the decision to be guided by that which is "fair, just and the brotherly thing."

Touching on the national "new deal," Dr. Pierce declared his belief that President Roosevelt was in "dead earnest."

Retirement of Governor Rolph was viewed by Dr. Pierce "without sorrow," the speaker declaring that the governor could have stopped the San Jose lynching had he chosen to do so.

Officials of Caliber

Averting that the caliber of men governing Redwood City was above that which politics usually gets, Dr. Pierce said that the price for ascendancy in power is usually at the cost of reducing the circle of friendships.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. Norman W. Pendleton, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Redwood City.

Harrison, as president of the chamber of commerce, presided at the joint banquet.

Harrison said that it was gratifying to know that the chamber of commerce has been kept active and alive and has "not been allowed to die on the vine of drought."

The chamber president saw unlimited opportunities for growth of Redwood City.

He gave credit to Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber, for the active organization that has continued to function here.

The chamber, at the request of President Harrison, bowed in a moment of silence in honor of Carl Mabie, former postmaster and civic leader, whose death was a recent occurrence.

Community singing was led by Mayor Charles G. Lambert.

Musical was provided during the dinner by the Native Sons' Hill Billy orchestra.

Local Dealers Complete Plans For Fourth Annual Auto Show

Automobile dealers of Redwood City were completing plans today for the third annual Redwood City Automobile Show which will be held on California street, just off Broadway, Saturday from noon until midnight. The street will be closed to traffic during the afternoon and evening.

Extensive plans have been made for this year's event, which invariably attracts big crowds.

The automobile show has the same function in the automotive world as spring and fall fashion openings have in the clothing—providing prospective buyers of cars an opportunity to see the range of models offered, and to learn of their new features and improvements.

Special lighting equipment has been installed for the occasion. Eight dealers will have entries, offering an aggregate of 64 models. The names of the exhibiting dealers and the lines to be displayed follow:

Davies Auto Company—Chevrolet.
M. P. Davison—De Soto and Plymouth.
Dearborn Motor Sales—Chrysler and Plymouth.
Dessin Brothers—Dodge and Plymouth.
Durlin B. Hackett—Oldsmobile and Hupmobile.
San Jose Buick Company—Buick and Pontiac.
Towne Motor Company—Ford.

Territo's Market Adds Truck In Order to Speed Deliveries

Announcement of the purchase of a new delivery truck to take care of their rapidly expanding business was made today by Joseph R. Territo, proprietor of Territo's Super Market.

The new truck, a Ford V-8, is painted a brilliant orange and lettered artistically in black. Thomas Vernal has been appointed delivery superintendent and is responsible for the quick and courteous service rendered in this department of the store. Four deliveries are made daily, reaching every part of the Redwood City trading area.

The store is the only super-market in Redwood City, having four complete departments to serve their patrons: Meats, groceries, delicatessen and fruits and vegetables.

Two telephone trunk lines have been installed to accommodate telephone orders.

Ten local men are employed in the store, making the enterprise one of the outstanding payrolls of Redwood City.

TAX STUDY COMMITTEE ORGANIZED BY COUNCIL

Formed to sound out the wishes of the taxpayers on economic problems affecting Redwood City, a citizens' committee for constructive economy was organized with council sanction Monday night. This movement is in keeping with an idea that has gained widespread national support to bring about governmental economies.

Seven outstanding citizens of the community were selected for service, and these members will add to their committee representatives of all major organizations within the city. These additional representatives will be selected by the organizations themselves to avoid any criticism that the committee is in any sense "hand picked."

The original committee, which will hold no authority and will be only of an advisory nature to the city manager and city council, as named by City Manager E. A. Rollison under charter authority, will be composed as follows:

Otis M. Carrington.
George A. Merrill.
J. Elmer Morrish.
Carl Beeger.
The Rev. Norman Pendleton.
Z. T. Thorming.
C. G. Uhlenberg.

In accepting service, the Rev. Mr. Pendleton made it clear that it is the intention of the committee to raise all economic questions above politics and not to serve any officer or minority or majority group in the council or city.

Each issue, he said, will be settled solely on its merits.

Mr. Pendleton's talk was greeted with loud clapping.

TERRITO'S MARKET ADDS NEW DELIVERY TRUCK

Standing by the truck is Thomas Vernal, delivery superintendent. The truck was purchased locally from the Towne Motor Company.

County Board Told Outsiders Winning Posts

Poole Asks Findings Of Investigation By Chief Cato

Inquiry into whether recent appointments to the San Mateo county traffic patrol were made from bona fide San Mateo county residents or were applicants who merely moved into the county to get on the eligible list was opened Monday by the board of supervisors.

Six men now listed at Sacramento as eligible for appointment to the San Mateo county patrol are reported not to be bona fide residents.

Supervisor John W. Poole, Redwood City, who declared the time had come to halt the practice of forwarding names to Sacramento without first making an inquiry into their residential status and fitness for the position, said that the chauffeur of a powerful state politician had sought to be appointed from San Mateo county.

Cato Conducts Inquiry
Chief E. Raymond Cato of the California Highway Patrol has been carrying forward an inquiry into the list submitted by the county, County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman revealed. Hinman has been asked to verify the names of those submitted as to whether or not they appear on the registration rolls.

One candidate for the post was said to have registered the day before he left for Sacramento to take the examinations as a San Mateo county applicant, it was stated to the board.

The board, upon motion of Supervisor Poole, seconded by Supervisor Brown, instructed Hinman to secure a copy of Cato's findings as to the San Mateo applicants.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, stated that the board had the power to withdraw the names of the eligible candidates if it is found that they were not bona fide residents of the county.

Application of William Stratton of Daly City, whom Witt declared had resided for many years in that section, was forwarded to Sacramento upon Witt's motion.

Veterans' Council Hits Outside Sales

Sales of poppies, for-get-me-nots, window cards and tokens by outside veterans will be fought by the San Mateo County United War Veterans' Council.

A move is underway to gain the support of city councils, merchants, chamber of commerce and the general public to buy such articles only from veterans who are connected with veterans' organizations in the cities of the peninsula. It was inaugurated at a meeting of the council presided over by William H. Augustus, president.

The next council meeting is to be held at San Bruno on June 15.

Permit for Second House on Lot Asked

Request to be permitted to build two houses on one lot on Buckeye street was made to the city council last night by P. Hausman of Atherton and was put to the property owners of the block concerned for their approval.

The lot is reported to be of such a nature that it cannot be subdivided.

Motorist Dies In Truck Crash

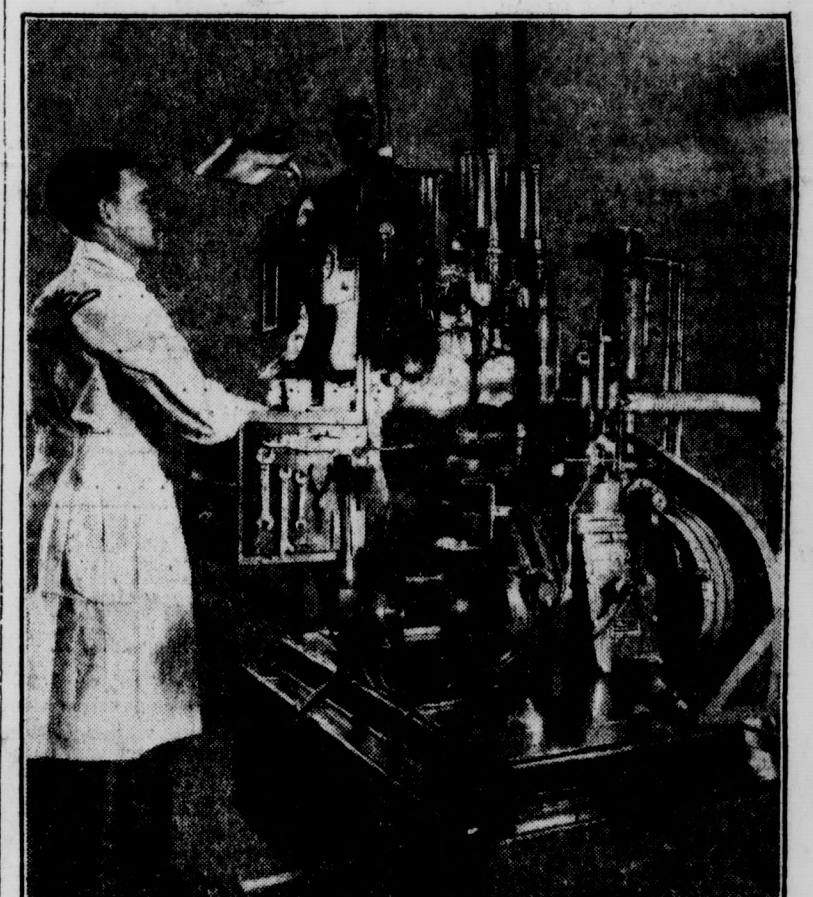

Car Strikes Rear End of Trailer Near Northerly Line

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—William Nohs, 53, of 145 Tunnel avenue, San Francisco, was killed at about 9:15 o'clock last night when his automobile crashed into the rear end of a truck on the Bayshore highway a mile south of the San Mateo-San Francisco county line.

Nohs was traveling north down the grade toward the fertilizer plant near the county line when he rammed the trailer, according to an investigation by Traffic Officers C. J. Lee and John Couch.

Charles Davis, 39, of 438 Minor avenue, Stockton, driver of the truck, which was also proceeding north, was uninjured in the collision.

NO FUEL CAN FOOL THIS KNOCK TESTER

Octane, a word familiar to all motorists, is still a mystery to most petroleum scientists believe. Above is shown a testing engine in General Petroleum's laboratories used to determine the exact octane value of a gasoline. You can't fool this machine for its mission in life is to knock.

Octane is a word familiar to all motorists, yet few know its real meaning, in the opinion of the majority of petroleum scientists. Some people think it refers to a substance, others to a measure of anti-knock value. Both are to a certain extent right, but few of them are sure just how right they are, or why.

Explains Term

To make the term and its application to gasoline clear to its retail salesmen, General Petroleum Corporation, producers and distributors of General Mobilgas, has prepared a printed explanation for its employees. Gasoline, the brochure points out, is a mixture of many different hydrocarbons, and these hydrocarbons in turn are various combinations of hydrogen and carbon. Scientists have theoretically isolated many of these different combinations. One of them is known as "octane" and contains eight parts of carbon and eighteen parts of hydrogen.

Iso-Octane

These parts of carbon and hydrogen may be grouped in different arrangements, one of which is known as "Iso-Octane." It is this synthetic product which is used as a standard by which to measure the anti-knock value of a gasoline. Because of its high anti-knock tendency, Iso-Octane is arbitrarily assigned the number 100, while another hydrocarbon belonging to the heptane family, containing seven parts carbon to sixteen parts hydrogen and which has a very low anti-knock value, is given the number 0.

To determine the octane value of a gasoline, the fuel is burned in a carefully standardized testing engine such as General Petroleum has in its Vernon laboratories. By reference to the behavior of octane, scientists can say this gasoline, (the one they are testing) knocks just as much as a theoretical fuel composed of, say, 68 parts of octane and 32 parts of heptane. In other words, the gasoline would have an octane value of 68, which is nothing more or less than its anti-knock rating.

Octane Numbers

The use of an octane number with reference to gasoline, the brochure emphasizes, does not mean that the fuel contains that percentage of octane, but merely refers to the anti-knock value of the gasoline as measured by this scale which is called octane numbers. General Mobilgas, it was pointed out, has one of the highest octane ratings of any non-premium gasoline on the market.

Supervisors Confer On Salary Budget

Members of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors conferred with County Executive Walter Kellogg and Controller Edward Stack on Tuesday on the proposed county salary budget for the coming year.

The conference was held in the county executive's office in the courthouse. The budget was presented to the board at its yesterday meeting.

City Votes Backing For Peninsula Goods

City building contracts hereafter will carry the notation that use of peninsula-produced products must be made on public projects, the city council determined last night. Mayor Reese Lloyd of South San Francisco made the request in behalf of South San Francisco steel mills. The resolution of the council approving this move was introduced upon motion of Councilman Evans Fletcher and second of Councilman Paul McCarthy.

Baden Charity
Gift DeclinedCounty Board Advised
Not to Use Fund
Of Racetrack

The Baden Kennel Club's $6,000 charity fund went begging for a taker Monday as the County of San Mateo showed reluctance to accept the money.

Raised on 10-cent admissions charged season ticket holders and others patronizing the season just closed, the money was offered to the county last week. Acceptance was put off for consideration.

The board yesterday afternoon asked District Attorney Edmund Scott whether it should accept the money or not.

Scott advised the supervisors "not to touch the money."

"I still think the kennel club is a racket," he said.

Some of the board members agreed to Scott's views that the money should not be accepted and the matter was ordered continued for further consideration.

Scott said that the kennel club could probably find some relief agency which would accept the money.

The Rev. Norman W. Pendleton of the First Congregational Church of Redwood City in a sermon referred to the money as a "public bribe."

Salary Cut Hearing

Mansfield asked the privilege of explaining the duties of the office. The resolution of the "new deal" governing salary reductions will come up at the next meeting, June 4.

Atherton Chief Keeps Silence But Looks On

Harper Entry Spreads Story Ex-Deputy To Bow Out

Despite reports that in view of the announced candidacy of Police Chief John Harper of Burlingame he would definitely not run for sheriff, it was reliably learned today that Chief of Police John E. ("Ed") Farrell of Atherton is by no means "out" of the race.

No comment, however, could be secured from Farrell himself, who has maintained silence all along concerning reports of the likelihood of his candidacy and who has expressed himself as preferring to "watch from the bench."

In spite of Farrell's silence, today's information indicated that the sheriff's race, figured as a tense two-man contest between Harper and the incumbent, James J. McGrath, since the former's announcement of yesterday, may yet have a third corner if the former undersheriff throws his hat into the ring.

McGrath Silent on Plans
Harper and Farrell are generally conceded to be the two most powerful opponents that could run against McGrath, who is expected to run again although he has not yet made a formal announcement.

In addition to the three leaders, however, there are several other prospective candidates, including Harry Arnold, Redwood City contractor; Cornelius Callaghan, former deputy sheriff, and Louis Cavalier, Burlingame constable.

Col. W. Scott Smith, unsuccessful candidate for congress four years ago, has already announced himself for the race.

Courthouse and political circles today were thrown into a buzz of excitement with the receipt by many officials and other citizens of copies of a mimeographed letter, signed by an apparently fictitious name, attacking the present operation of the sheriff's office.

Pea Field Strike Violence Fading Along Coastside

Strike of pea pickers at Pescadero appeared to be near an end today, with most of the Filipino pickers trouble center of the dispute, reported to be leaving the district today.

Sheriff James J. McGrath returned from his three-day vigil on the coastside to prevent any violent outbreaks, although he left undersheriff Lawrence Neri and several deputies still on guard.

With the departure of all but about 150 Filipinos, who are centered on the Fabril ranch, it was believed that the strike threat was nearly over. Mexican pickers were at work on all ranches, and the entire Pescadero district was said to be quiet.

Sheriff McGrath yesterday broke up several skirmishes and a small demonstration.

Complaints were to be issued today against five Filipinos, one white arrested in the past two days. Two of the Filipinos were to be charged with carrying concealed weapons, a blackjack being found in their car, and the other three were to face trespassing charges. The white, Bill Hamlin, an alleged agitator, will be charged with vagrancy.

FIRE EQUIPMENT IS OBTAINED AT BARGAIN PRICE

Lease to the City of Redwood City for $1 per year of automatic fire alarm equipment which the City of Berkeley had found outmoded was approved by the city council last night. The lease will run three years and will cost the city $3.

This equipment, City Councilman Paul McCarthy reported, has been offered the city at a price of $750. New it cost $8,000, and second hand equipment of the same type was offered the city at a price of $5,600.

City Manager Ernest Rolison made the arrangements for lease on the equipment.

The council upon motion of Councilmen Paul McCarthy and second of Councilman George McNulty approved the lease.

Council Trio Says Editorial Did 'Injustice'

Efforts to Call Paper 'On Carpet' Fails As Unjustified

Right of the Redwood City Tribune to criticize city officials or their acts was questioned this week by the "new deal" council trio which sought to introduce a resolution calling upon the paper to reveal the information upon which an editorial appearing May 9 was based.

Support for the move failed to materialize the necessary votes and the resolution was defeated.

Violated Press Freedom
Councilman Paul McCarthy, an attorney, held that the attempt to call the paper to task was beyond the province of the city council and violated the freedom of the press as guaranteed by the American constitution.

The councilmen held that the board had no more right to dictate how The Tribune should run its business than it had to tell any other business in the city how it should run.

Mayor Charles Lambert said that as public officials the members of the council were subject to criticism by the press. He said he would not be a party to "muzzling" the press.

No Repudiation Asked
The editorial in question was that dealing with the reported attempt to oust City Manager Ernest Rolison.

Councilman McCarthy suggested that the falsity of the editorial could be proved by actions rather than words.

No request that The Tribune print a repudiation of the editorial was made by the new councilmen since its appearance May 9.

In the resolution, the council charged that "the statements contained in said editorial were obviously inspired by some individual or group of individuals for the purpose of calling into question the good faith of the three new members of this body in presenting a certain resolution calling for the consolidation of certain offices and the preparation of an ordinance providing a new pay schedule for city employees."

The editorial itself dealt only with the question of Manager Rolison's status and did not comment upon the other phases of the "new deal" program.

"The evident purpose of the editorial," according to the resolution, "is to belittle the issue regarding city economic and the contents of said editorial evades and avoids the issue raised by said resolution and seeks to substitute therefor an entirely different question pertaining solely to an alleged quarrel between a city official and a public utility."

Continuing, the resolution declares: "Whereas, said editorial erroneously and without justification charges the proponents of said resolution with stating that the city manager plan is, in many respects, ill adapted to a city of limited population, while said resolution, in fact, in no wise attacks the office of city manager, but states solely that the 'existing government set-up, while perhaps designed to effect efficiency in larger municipalities, is, in many respects, ill-adapted to a city of limited population and the maintenance of same has placed upon the taxpayers of this city an undue burden of taxation."

The editorial is referred to an "obviously a brazen attempt to influence the members of this body with regard to the conduct of city affairs."

Quoting further, the resolution says: "The three members of this body responsible for said resolution have heretofore, and do now, specifically deny each and every statement, reference, innuendo and implication therein contained which seeks to convey the impression that such members were acting in behalf of or under the direction of any 'power trust' or any other person, firm or corporation, and likewise deny that said resolution was prompted by a desire to remove the city manager, but assert that same was prompted solely by a desire for efficient and economical government."

Deny Any Dictation
Asserted to "lack truth in substance," the editorial, according to its critics, "is calculated and designed to inspire distrust of elected officers by depicting the deliberations of this body as being directed by private interests."

It is held by the council trio that the orderly functioning of government under the city charter can only be attained through sincere co-operation between the council and the city manager and that such relationship "is impaired by articles such as said editorial."

Without His Knowledge
The second part of the resolution dealt with any knowledge which City Manager Rolison might have held as to the contents of the editorial.

Rolison stated emphatically that he had nothing to do with the preparation of the editorial, had nothing to do with the assembling of the information, nor did he know of its intended appearance until he saw it in print the day of publication.

The resolution was introduced upon motion of Councilman Evans Fletcher, seconded by Councilman James Eva, and was voted down by Councilmen Lambert, McCarthy, Robert Jones and George McNulty. It had the support of Councilman Louis Christensen.

Menlo Park Fiscal Affairs Found In Order

MENLO PARK, May 24 (Special to the Tribune)—Menlo Park's city accounts were "properly kept and monies received properly accounted" during the 10 months' period ending last April 30, according to a report filed last night with the Menlo Park City Council by the San Francisco auditing firm of Lawrence Scudder and Company.

The report read last night covers the first 10 months of the 1933-34 fiscal year, during which the former city administration headed by Ex-Mayor W. H. Weeden was in charge of the municipal government. Lawrence Scudder and Company will also furnish the council with a complete audit at the end of the fiscal year June 30.

The audit showed the following balance as of April 30, 1934: general fund, $49,947.66 as of July 1, 1933. Street improvement fund, $1,241.36 (as compared with $1,958.46 on July 1, 1933). Street improvement bond fund, $1,917.81.

Officials Probe East Palo Alto Accident Death
Louis D. Ponzi, 23, of 825 McKendrie avenue, driver of the automobile that ran down and killed Angelo Pares, 39, Palo Alto boot-black, Saturday night on the Bayshore avenue at East Palo Alto, his three companions and an eyewitness were questioned this morning by Deputy District Attorney Harold Anderson and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Maloney.

No charges have been filed in the case. An inquest will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Layng and Tinney Funeral Home here.

Pares, who was walking across the highway to attend a dance in East Palo Alto, was knocked for 84 feet by the force of the impact. He died of a skull fracture and other injuries while being rushed to the Palo Alto Hospital.

He lived at 635 Bryant street, Palo Alto, and had no known relatives.

After questioning Ponzi and his companions here this morning, Anderson and Maloney also interviewed L. B. Hoffman, civil employee at the Sunnyvale air base, who was an eye-witness of the accident.

Without His Knowledge
The second part of the resolution dealt with any knowledge which City Manager Rolison might have held as to the contents of the editorial.

Rolison stated emphatically that he had nothing to do with the preparation of the editorial, had nothing to do with the assembling of the information, nor did he know of its intended appearance until he saw it in print the day of publication.

The resolution was introduced upon motion of Councilman Evans Fletcher, seconded by Councilman James Eva, and was voted down by Councilmen Lambert, McCarthy, Robert Jones and George McNulty. It had the support of Councilman Louis Christensen.
